

DON'T WAIT TO LIVE
Matthew 25:14-30

Here is a poem that describes well the strategy for life employed by the one talent servant.

There was a very cautious man who never laughed or played.
He never risked, he never tried.
He never sang or prayed.

And when he passed away,
his insurance was denied.
For since he never really lived,
they claim he never died.

You cannot reach your full potential with your efforts crippled by caution.

Mark Twain once said, "Even if you are on the right track, you will get run over if you just sit there." The one talent servant in our lesson sure could have used that common sense advice from Mark Twain. The one talent servant did not invest himself or his resources, and thus, he inherited what he had invested in, which was nothing. The tragedy of life is not that it ends so soon but that we wait so long to begin it.

We are called as followers of Christ to trust God to help us in whatever we are called to do. Let us step out in faith and live our life for the glory of God.

God bless,
Pastor Barbara
